Ferris Hills Celebrates Expansion, Renovations

Ferris Hills at West Lake recently celebrated the opening of Rayburn Hall, dedicated in memory of residents Peg and Bill Rayburn.

Approximately double the size of the previous community room, it's located near Ferris Hills' café, fitness center and salon, all of which were renovated during the expansion.

"This has always been an exceptionally beautiful facility with great amenities, but we're excited because having Rayburn Hall will allow us to accommodate more people for the fantastic lectures, musical performances and parties we host," said Executive Director Aimee Ward.

Al Johnson, a retired engineer who has called Ferris Hills home since 2005, is an amateur photographer who took pictures documenting the project and said of the expansion, "I think it's great, and architecturally speaking, I think it was very well implemented."

"I think it's a positive in many respects for the community," he added.

Rayburn Hall looks out on a courtyard and new gazebo where this summer's Sunset Serenades concert series will take place. Free and open to the public, the concerts are at 7 p.m. on Wednesday evenings starting off in July.
