Fall in love with Ferris Hills

Go, sit upon the lofty hill,
And turn your eyes around,
Where waving woods and waters wild
Do hymn an autumn sound.
The summer sun is faint on them—
The summer flowers depart—
Sit still—as all transform'd to stone,
Except your musing heart.

The Autumn

We've Got Spirit, Yes We Do!

In keeping with a tradition of supporting community organizations and programs, residents of Ferris Hills at West Lake set up a cheering section for the recent Crosswinds 5K.

Ferris Hills was an official sponsor of the event, which raised $10,700 for The Spot. The organization provides school supplies, clothing, food, and shoes to local K-12 students in need.

Waving pom-poms, the residents greeted runners as they came up a long hill on the Ferris Hills campus, making their way to the finish line at Crosswinds Wesleyan Church.

"Some runners were looking pretty tired, but as soon as they saw the residents out cheering for them, they were all smiles and found a reason to push it," said race director Michelle Soller. "That's so heartwarming, and really what it's all about."

Residents' Apartments Anything but 'Cookie-Cutter'

In the 21 years since it first opened, Ferris Hills at West Lake has built a reputation as a place where residents can share their varied backgrounds and enjoy activities uniquely tailored to them.

Executive Director Aimee Ward notes the apartments are no different, with anything but a “cookie cutter” approach to floor plans and décor.

Take John and Dolores Granito, for example. The retired educators moved in this past May, with plans to spend summers at Ferris Hills and winters at their place in Florida.

One of their daughters – an attorney with a passion for interior decorating – helped them choose the look for their 1250-square-foot space. It features wood floors, a fireplace, and custom bookcases as well as a studio where Dolores makes greeting cards and a den where John writes.

“It turned out beautifully,” said Aimee, noting neighbors’ apartments include everything from dark green walls and French-style furniture, to an art gallery with items from around the world, to Scandinavian furniture with a minimalistic approach.

“Watching new residents make an apartment their own is always fun,” Aimee said. “We love working with them throughout the process because it helps us to get to know each other, and it always leads to something different!”
